

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A vertical mixer has plexi-glass sight windows located in a side wall of the mixing chamber. The windows extend generally vertically between a top and bottom of the mixing chamber and provide visual 5 access to an interior of the chamber from outside the mixer.